ROADBLOCK

Car parking restrictions put in place at Great Western Park

PARKING restrictions have been put in place on Didcot's newest housing estate amid fears cars are blocking access for emergency vehicles.

Cars found parked on Sir Frank Williams Avenue, Blackthorne Road and Greenfinch Road at Great Western Park will now be fined £100.

The Great Western Park Consortium has appointed Parking Control Management (UK) Ltd to monitor the situation.

Restrictions came into force on Monday, November 10, and residents already living on the estate were sent a warning letter last week.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

It said the roads are "key routes through the development" and they will "over time attract delivery lorries, refuse vehicles, buses and emergency vehicles".

The letter continued: "As such it is imperative we keep these roads clear from parked vehicles".

Spokesperson Abby Davies says a covenant within the plot deeds for homes at Great Western Park requires residents not to obstruct the three roads.

She added: "This is because they are main infrastructure roads used by construction traffic, buses and eventually heavy goods lorries delivering to the planned food store.

"We initially wrote to residents advising them that parking is not permitted in these roads and is causing traffic flow problems.

"Unfortunately this approach has not been successful.

"We therefore felt we had to consider enforcement of this pre-existing legal obligation."

Oxfordshire County Council is responsible for the Fire and Rescue Service and supports the consortium's decision.

County council spokesperson Paul Smith said: "All fire and rescue services, and indeed emergency services generally, are acutely aware that the speed of response once a 999 call has been received can be the difference between life and death.

"Any measures that help response times are welcome, including parking restrictions that insure emergency services' access can be quick and easy."

The scheme is an initial 12-month contract with Parking Control Management (UK) Ltd and will be reviewed quarterly with the Great Western Park Residents' Association.

Chairman of the association John Boden was unavailable for comment.

Minister praises Science Vale zone

By Adam Flinn
adam.@taylornewspapers.co.uk

GOVERNMENT minister Penny Mordaunt has hailed Science Vale as a "success story", following a visit to Milton Park on Tuesday.

The local growth minister made the visit ahead of the government's announcement yesterday that their enterprise zone programme has created more than 12,500 jobs nationwide.

A total of 760 jobs have been created at Milton Park and Harwell since Science Vale was set up in April 2012.

It is hoped that a further 16,000 positions will become available over the next 15 years.

"Science Vale is a success story and is building a deservedly world-class reputation as a centre for excellence for science and technology," said Ms Mordaunt, MP for Portsmouth North.

"The zone continues to attract some of the biggest names in business, as well as the small innovators, to come to this part of the world.

"That is why we have spent millions in developing these sites, and it's great to see where that money is going first hand."

The government opened 24 enterprise zones across the country in 2012 as part of a 25-year project, offering tax incentives, simplified planning and fast broadband to companies.

James Dipple, chief operating officer at Milton Park owners MEPC, said: "We are delighted to have played a small part in this significant enterprise zone announcement.

"Our Science Vale status helps us to continue to develop a world-class business community which is attractive for companies who have a vision to grow, innovate and succeed, and thus facilitate growth for the local as well as the wider economy.

"Such growth, not only at Milton Park but across the other UK enterprise zones, can only be positive news for the benefit of all."

Hunt for man fleeing from recall to prison

POLICE are looking for a man who is on the run after being recalled to prison earlier this year, and is believed to be in South Oxfordshire.

Lee Doyle, 29, was recalled to jail on March 28 for breaching the terms of his license, having been released last November.

He had been sentenced to 32 months in jail in February last year for a burglary he committed in June 2012.

Doyle is believed to be in the Benson, Wallingford or Thame area, and also has links to Oxford, Weston-Super-Mare, and Hayling Island in Hampshire.

He is described as white, 6ft, slim, with dark brown hair.

PC Ollie Norridge from Didcot Local Area CID said: "Lee Doyle has been wanted for more than six months and every effort is being made to locate him.

"We would also like to speak to him in connection with a burglary which took place in Benson Place, Oxford, on March 16.

"I would once again like to urge members of the public to report any sightings of Doyle to the police."

Anyone with information about Doyle is asked to contact police on 101.

Towers refurb

OXFORD: A project to refurbish five tower blocks in the city was given the go ahead last week by the city council's East Oxford Planning Committee.

The Evenlode and Windrush towers in Blackbird Leys, Plowman Tower in Northway, Foresters Tower in Wood Farm and Hockmore Tower in Cowley will all be revamped as part of the project.

Each tower will get new cladding on the side of the building, as well as new roofs, windows, and heating systems.

Evenlode, Windrush, Plowman and Foresters towers' balconies will also be enclosed to create 'garden rooms'.

Scott Seamons, the council's board member for housing and estate regeneration, said: "This is an exciting and ambitious project.

"There are over 700 residents whose living standards will be enhanced through this refurbishment project.

"We have been working closely with them through consultation, regular updates, and by recruiting block representatives from each of the tower blocks who have been involved on all aspects of the project."

It is expected to cost the council around £18.3million.

Building work is due to start next spring and is expected to finish in 2018.

Top honours

OXFORD: The John Radcliffe Hospital's Women's Centre has been awarded the runners-up prize celebrating excellence in care and support for parents and babies.

The unit at the Headley Way hospital, and the Horton Maternity Bereavement Service at Banbury's Horton Hospital, were two of 10 services to be recognised in the First 1,000 Days awards last Wednesday.

The awards run by at the All-Party Parliamentary Group of Maternity recognise help given to mums and dads in the first 1,000 days after birth.

Kim Paul, bereavement specialist midwife at the John Radcliffe Women's Centre, said: "The team are delighted to be recognised for all of our hard work."

Teen charged in connection with death of schoolgirl

A 19-YEAR-OLD man has been charged with death by dangerous driving following the accident that killed Witney schoolgirl Liberty Baker (pictured) in June.

Robert Blackwell, of Hayway Lane in Weald, near Bampton, was charged by police on Saturday with one count of death by dangerous driving and one of causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

Liberty, 14, was hit by a car as she was walking to school along Curbridge Road in Witney on June 30, and died later that day in hospital.

Three other pedestrians – two 14-year-old girls and a man – were also hit by the car, and sustained injuries.

Hundreds of tributes and flowers were left to Liberty at the side of Curbridge Road following the collision.

A Facebook group set up in her memory has also received nearly 6,000 likes.

Blackwell has been released on bail to appear at Banbury Magistrates' Court on November 24.

Ready... steady... BAKE!

By Jack Johnson

DIDCOT residents will have their showstoppers at the ready this weekend as they compete to become master baker at the town's Christmas Bake off and Gift Fair.

Taking place at the Civic Hall in Britwell Road, amateur bakers will vie for the coveted title over Saturday and Sunday.

Didcot resident and former Great British Bake Off contestant Christine Wallace will be one of the judges.

And she will be joined by fellow contestant Toby Waterworth, broadcaster Paul Bell Chambers, Becci Bitmead from The Old Farmhouse Bakery in Steventon and founder of the Oxfordshire Bake off Kate Kellaway-Moore.

The competition will be held alongside the annual gift fair and both will raise money for Didcot's Christmas Street Fair, which is taking place on November 27.

Chairman of the street fair committee Jeanette Howse said: "The gift fair and the bake off is a chance to buy unique and quality presents.

"The bake off is new and we are still encouraging people to enter but it is just a bit of fun."

Saturday's competition will find the best bakers from eight categories and on Sunday the town's master baker will be unveiled.

The winners from Saturday will be given a bag of ingredients and a recipe to take home and bake for the next day.

Meanwhile, heroes will be the theme for this year's street fair and as well as fun fair rides in the Broadway and the Orchard Centre there will be a Williams F1 car and a Red Arrows simulator.

The fair is expected to cost £16,000 and has been funded through various events, a Sunday market and sponsorship money from developers Taylor Wimpey.

The fair will be held between 4pm and 9pm and the Grand Parade from the Orchard Centre to the Civic Hall, led by mayor Scott Wilgrove, will take place at 7pm.

Ms Howse, who started the street fair 21 years ago, added: "It is a great community event.

"We walked down the street giving out the newsletters last week and people love it.

"For us it is really nice that we don't get negativity and it is all about being inclusive.

"We have to keep it to its routes of being for the community, shops, clubs and charities."

For more details about the bake off and to enter, visit didcotchristmasbakeoff.co.uk.

Tickets for the event cost £5.

The ceremony will begin at 7.30pm.

Mum assaulted

DIDCOT: A mother was slapped in the face by a teenager in a park in Mendip Heights on October 27.

At 2pm, a woman in her 20s confronted a teenage boy for picking on one of her two children, before being assaulted by him.

Witnesses to the incident should call police on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Homes plan

DIDCOT: An application has been submitted to South Oxfordshire District Council to reduce the number of phases in the building of Great Western Park.

Developers Taylor Wimpey originally planned to build the 3,300 home estate in nine phases, but now wish to build in seven.

Taylor Wimpey say the change is due to a shorter delivery time.

A decision on the homes is expected to be made on January 1.

Parking fears at housing estate

• From front page

Residents have begun abiding by the restrictions but town councillor Tony Harbour, who lives on the estate, says despite the absence of parked cars the estate's roads are narrow.

Cllr Harbour added: "It is unfortunate that they have had to put in restrictions but the estate does feel very cramped and some of the side roads do not seem wide enough to get two cars past in certain places."

Signs have now been put up advising motorists of the restrictions, and the consortium insists each household has an adequate amount of parking.

Ms Davies said: "A variety of parking options are provided for residents at Great Western Park, and depending on their plot, this can include garages or car ports, driveway parking, and off-plot allocated parking."

She continued: "The amount of visitor parking spaces provided has been guided by local authority advice."

Residents call for flats to be lowered after report

CAMPAIGNERS against the controversial Castle Mill student flats are calling for them to be reduced in height after the publication of an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA).

The flats in Roger Dudman Way, which house 312 students, have angered local residents who believe the six buildings should be lowered by one storey.

Activists say the flats have had a detrimental impact on the city's landscape, particularly from Port Meadow.

The EIA lists three measures to mitigate the visual impact of the flats from Port Meadow - a façade and colour treatment, the lowering of roofs, and the demolition of one floor from all six buildings.

Save Port Meadow campaigner Toby Porter said: "Cosmetic masking with trees and cladding is clearly not enough.

"The EIA clearly shows that only a reduction in height will substantially reduce harm

"That is what the city and residents of Oxford deserve, and that is what the thousands of Save Port Meadow campaigners expect to see."

Oxford City Council granted the university planning permission in February 2012 without an EIA.

The university promised to produce a retrospective EIA assessment after a High Court hearing in October 2013.

And the report was released on October 30 this year, confirming 'substantial' harm had been done to Port Meadow.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

But Oxford University's director of estates Paul Goffin says lowering the height of the buildings will "require large and unacceptable expenditure of its funding".

He added: "The university is proposing additional measures to adapt the landscaping and the cladding of the new buildings to blend them in better with the surrounding area.

"We will plant more trees on the western boundary of the site, and we will soften the colour and textures of the buildings."

Stephen Rouse, a spokesperson for Oxford University, said: "We do not believe options two or three make sense for the city or the university.

"They would mean all students vacating the buildings for a year and option three would involve removing rooms, costing tens of millions of pounds and putting more pressure on Oxford's already over-stretched housing market."

The EIA is now under consultation until December 19 and the council's West Area Planning Committee is expected to make a decision on the mitigation options on January 15.

Choirs to perform for Christmas light festival

MORE than 700 singers from local choirs and schools are set to perform across Oxford next Sunday as part of this year's Christmas Lights Festival.

The Day of Song, on November 23, is the culmination of the city's Christmas festival running from November 21 to 23.

It follows the city's Christmas lights switch-on on Friday, November 21.

Choirs will sing in churches, museums and shops across the city.

They will perform separately during the day, before coming together for a grand finale at the Town Hall at 5pm.

Event producer Cat Kelly said: "I'm so excited about the idea of filling Oxford with song, and I'm estimating we'll have around 750 singers performing on the day.

"The finale event at Oxford Town Hall will bring together about half of those singers, and it should be an absolutely stunning way to close the festival."

Christine Simm, the city council's board member for culture and communities, added: "We are really looking forward to hearing Oxford come alive with song.

"Singing is a very powerful community activity and a lovely way to celebrate the beginning of the festive season."

Celebrities invest in energy project

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

• The launch of the Low Carbon Hub at Larkrise Primary School in Oxford back in September

A SOCIAL enterprise that is raising £1.5million to install solar panels onto 18 schools in Oxfordshire has passed the halfway point to its target, attracting celebrity interest along the way.

The Low Carbon Hub has so far attracted £771,400 of investment from 167 people, including entrepreneur Richard Branson and environmentalist Jonathan Porritt.

TV presenter Kevin McCloud, best known for hosting Grand Designs, has also invested in the project.

"I've invested in the Low Carbon Hub scheme because it's the future," he said.

"The most pressing and the most demanding issue that our local economies face lies in how we source our energy to power our homes, cars, factories and hospitals.

"Doing that sustainably, efficiently and locally will make the single biggest difference to our environmental footprint."

The project is part of the hub's plans to create a renewable energy system for Oxfordshire, with power collected from the solar panels going back into the National Grid.

Money made from the energy collected will then be returned to the investors.

Barbara Hammond, chief executive of the Low Carbon Hub, said: "We are really pleased to see so many people get behind this project.

"Now that we have reached the halfway mark we can be confident that the projects will definitely go ahead.

"We are now doing a big push to reach our target by the end of November to maximise the benefit to communities."

After installing the panels on the first 18 schools, the Low Carbon Hub is hoping to extend the project further, with dozens of other sites having expressed interest.

The share offer is open until November 28, with investors receiving an expected return of five per cent per annum.

For more details on the project or to invest, go to their website: lowcarbonhub.org.

Free parking coming soon

RESIDENTS in South Oxfordshire and the Vale of White Horse will be able to park for free on certain days in the run up to Christmas.

Council car parks in Abingdon and Faringdon will be free all day on November 29, while shoppers in Wantage can park without charge on December 13.

In South Oxfordshire, Didcot, Goring, Henley, Thame and Wallingford council car parks will be free of charge on selected days in December.

Didcot and Henley district council car parks will be free every Tuesday afternoon, Goring and Thame on Saturday mornings and Wallingford every Thursday afternoon.

Shoppers will not have to display a parking ticket on the free days.

Robert Simister, cabinet member for property and technical services at South Oxfordshire District Council, said: "Hopefully residents will respond again this year by supporting their local traders and making the most of the wonderful choice of potential presents that can be found throughout the district."

Elaine Ware, cabinet member for economy, leisure and property at Vale of White Horse District Council, added: "We would love to see many people take advantage of free parking in the run up to Christmas."

Victim's mum makes plea for motorists not to drink

A MUM whose 19-year-old son was killed by a drunk driver in Wantage 16 years ago is urging motorists not to drink and drive as part of an Oxfordshire County Council campaign promoting non-alcoholic drinks.

Jane Evason's son Gareth was hit in Woodhill Lane on May 3, 1998, by a car being driven by a friend who was two and a half times over the legal limit.

She joined the council's road safety manager Mick Clarke at the Co-op on Kidlington High Street last Friday to promote non-alcoholic drinks as an alternative to alcohol.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Mrs Evason said: "Gareth's brother Neil is now married and has two beautiful boys, which bring us such joy and help ease the pain a little, but Neil has no brother to share this with and the boys will never know their uncle.

"This is what drink-driving does to families – not just ours but hundreds of others as well.

"The only way people can be sure that the decisions they take when driving won't be impaired is by not having any alcohol before getting behind the wheel."

It comes as road safety organisation Think! marks 50 years since showing its first drink-drive public information film.

Injuries caused by drink-driving have fallen significantly in Oxfordshire, from 298 when records began in 1979 to 50 last year.

But deaths have remained at a similar level in the county over the past two decades, with a total of 36 people killed through drink-driving since 1994.

Mr Clarke said: "The tragedy which happened to the Evason family is a stark reminder of the dangers associated with drink-driving.

"While it is encouraging that over recent years numbers of accidents caused by drink-driving have fallen locally, unfortunately there are still those who get behind the wheel after drinking alcohol.

"It is essential that people also know that the effects of alcohol can still last into morning after a drinking session, and it is vital not to get caught out if people plan to drive to work or take the children to school."

Blanket checks

OXON: Almost a quarter of electric blankets tested by Oxfordshire County Council's Trading Standards team during a recent campaign failed safety checks.

A total of 779 blankets were examined during a number of free test sessions, with 189 found to be unsafe.

The failure rate was similar to last year, but remains the lowest it has been since the testing campaign was launched 16 years ago.

Red kite is named in top-10

THE red kite, often seen in the skies above Oxfordshire after being reintroduced to the area in 1989, has made the top-10 in a search to find Britain's national bird.

After vanishing from England, a number of pairs of red kites were released around Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire as it was considered an ideal habitat for the bird of prey.

The birds have flourished in the area over the past 25 years, and are now regularly seen in the county.

And the red kite's success has led to it making the top-10 in the search for a national bird, from an original starting list of 60.

TV presenter David Lindo, who launched the search, said: "It's great to see the red kite in the top-10.

"It's a testament to the success of the re-introduction programme and confirms what a beautiful and popular bird this is, and the fact that we were certainly worse off without this raptor."

The top-six birds will go forward to a second round of voting on November 30.

The final winner is due to be announced in May.

To vote for the top-10, go to votenationalbird.com.

House blaze

WITNEY: Fire crews were called to a house in Witney on Sunday after a neighbour spotted flames through the kitchen window.

The fire happened at around 4.30pm on Burford Road, which fire fighters have put down to a faulty appliance.

Nobody was in the house at the time.

Crew manager Chris Hollis said: "The neighbour was alerted to the fire by a working smoke alarm and the house was protected from greater smoke damage by a closed door."

OXFORD: A 20-year-old man was put in a headlock and forced to hand over money on a footbridge in the city on November 6.

The victim was walking over the bridge between Friars Wharf and Marlborough Road when a man approached him and demanded money.

Police say the offender had light brown skin and may have been accompanied by a woman.

WHEATLEY: A school in Wheatley has won the Artsmark Gold Award for a fourth time.

Wheatley Park School was given the award for its achievement in the arts, and is the only school in Oxfordshire to have won on four occasions.

Headteacher Kate Curtis said: "Our school has a strong tradition in the arts, but this award reflects a whole school approach to creativity."

Tenants talks

OXFORD: An annual conference for council tenants and leaseholders is set to take place at Oxford Town Hall next Wednesday.

Katherine Grainger is uni's new chancellor

OLYMPIC gold medallist Dr Katherine Grainger has been chosen as Oxford Brookes University's new chancellor, succeeding human rights activist Shami Chakrabarti in the role.

Katherine is best known for her rowing achievements, and is the only British female athlete to win medals in four consecutive Olympic Games.

She has previously sat on judging panels for the Oxford Brookes Social Entrepreneur Awards, and was given an honorary degree by the university earlier this year.

Katherine said: "I have huge admiration for each of my three predecessors as chancellor of Oxford Brookes.

"I'm very honoured to have the opportunity to build on the outstanding work they have each done on behalf of the university during their terms of office.

"It is an institution that can be proud of the difference it continues to make to the lives of individuals and the contribution it makes to society more widely."

The role is largely ceremonial, with duties including holding an annual lecture, presiding over certain ceremonies and acting as an ambassador for Brookes.

Katherine will take up the position on March 20 next year as part of its 'Three Chancellors' event, celebrating the 150th anniversary of the university.

She takes over from Shami Chakrabarti, who is moving on to become chancellor of the University of Essex, having been at Brookes since 2008.

Shami said: "Katherine Grainger is the perfect next chancellor of Oxford Brookes, epitomising excellence, endeavour and the positive values that are so important to our tradition.

"I have no doubt that both student and academic bodies will be as proud of this inspired appointment as I am."

Brookes' vice-chancellor Professor Janet Beer added: "Katherine is the embodiment of Oxford Brookes' values.

"Oxford Brookes had benefitted hugely from having Shami as our chancellor and I am delighted that in Katherine the university has an inspirational figure to take on this important role.

"Katherine will be an incredible role model for our students, staff and wider community."

Mayor's Column

Jane Titchener
Mayor of Wallingford

Lucky to live in Wallingford

The last week or so has given me many opportunities to reflect on how lucky we are in Wallingford.

On Halloween, the town council was out and about, handing out treats kindly donated by Waitrose.

Everyone we met was in good spirits, there were some great costumes on show, and the town was full of excited youngsters, happily collecting sweets and other treats.

Last Saturday saw our Bonfire and Fireworks evening, organised once again by the 1155 Club.

This year the attendance was terrific, with more people than ever before coming along to see one of the best fireworks displays we have ever had.

The money is still being counted, but I believe that the event has raised a record total for local charities. It was quite amazing to come back into town the following morning to find hoards of beavers, cubs and scouts busily collecting the discarded sparklers and the remains of the fireworks - by the time they had finished you would never have known that so many people had been there the night before.

And finally, Remembrance Sunday. I was very proud to lead the town in our act of remembrance. The sun shone and the town fell silent, the minutes silence was only broken by the sound of the approaching fly past of helicopters from RAF Benson.

Being mayor is a great honour, and it is a week like this that gives us all so many reasons to be proud.

Experts to study men's cancer care

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

RESEARCHERS at Oxford Brookes University are set to start a £2.2million research programme into the impact of prostate cancer.

More than 100,000 men who were diagnosed with the condition between one and three years ago will take part in the study.

The news comes as men all over the country are growing moustaches throughout November to raise awareness of prostate cancer.

Experts say the study will help identify what life is like for men who have been diagnosed and what steps can be taken to improve experiences.

The project, called 'Life after prostate cancer diagnosis', has been funded by the organisation Movember Foundation in partnership with charity Prostate Cancer UK.

Eila Watson, professor in Supportive Cancer Care at Oxford Brookes University, is part of the survey development team.

She will carry out interviews with men and partners for the study, and said: "This is a very exciting initiative.

"We need a better understanding of the issues men face in the years following diagnosis and treatment and the impact prostate cancer has on their quality of life.

"This study will give us the opportunity to ask men of all ages and backgrounds from all over the UK what things are really like for them, what issues are most important, and where any gaps in services and support are."

Researchers aim to identify how a diagnosis of prostate cancer impacts a man's daily life.

The results are intended to help shape changes to improve care in the future.

The project will be led by Dr Adam Glaser at the University of Leeds, as well as Dr Anna Gavin at Queen's University Belfast.

Researchers at Oxford Brookes University, the University of Southampton and government organisation Public Health England will work with them.

Similar studies have also been planned to launch in Ireland and also Australia.

Rogue trader admits to wrongdoing

A GARDENER caught out by Trading Standards officers on a routine patrol admitted to trying to fleece a Kennington resident out of £1,700.

David Smith, 50, who traded under Tree and Garden Services, was handed a community order of 200 hours unpaid work and told to pay his victim £700 in compensation and £500 for causing distress on November 5.

Oxfordshire's Trading Standards team leader, Anu Prashar, said: "This case is an example of an opportunist trader who thought he could charge a householder a vastly over-inflated price for shoddy repair work.

"It just goes to show unfortunately there are dishonest traders out there who will chance their arm in search of a quick buck."

Oxford Crown Court heard a patrol spotted a vehicle in Simpsons Way on October 24, 2012.

Officers spoke to Smith, and then to a householder who complained of his work.

Smith had told his victim repair work on loose tiling would cost around £300, before upping the price to £1,700 after claiming a chimney needed repointing.

He admitted engaging in an unfair commercial practice and was also ordered to pay £1,000 in costs.

Prolific offender jailed for Oxford robbery

A MAN responsible for robbing an Oxford bank seven years ago has been jailed for 17 years.

Jonathan Whitton, 38, of Drenon Square, Uxbridge, was sentenced at Kingston Crown Court on October 31.

He pleaded guilty to five counts of robbery, including the Abbey National robbery on November 13, 2007, and three counts of firearm and ammunition possession.

Whitton was in court with Hugh Atkins, 32 of Burtwell Lane and Leon Simpson, 40, of Lambert Road, both London.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The trio were sentenced to a combined total of more than 35 years for a series of robberies and being in possession of firearms and ammunition.

Police say the offences across the Thames Valley and London were between 2007 and 2013.

The first was the Oxford robbery from Abbey National.

Investigating officer Det Con Matt Kent said: "This gang operated across the south east for a number of years and I hope their sentences have given their victims a sense of closure, some of whom suffered terrifying ordeals at their hands."

Whitton and Simpson were also convicted of attempted robbery at a petrol station in Sternhold Avenue, Streatham, on May 21, 2013.

And on July 10 the same year Whitton was involved in a robbery at the petrol station where a cash box was stolen.

On November 8, 2013, the three men targeted a custodian collecting and delivering at a bank in Hayes, Middlesex.

A safe box with £30,000 worth of a customer's personal items was stolen, including items belonging to the family of a boy who died in a car accident.

On December 9 last year, Whitton and an unknown man assaulted two female staff members at Lloyds Bank in Stokenchurch, demanded the safe be opened and stole over £180,000.

The men were arrested and charged on December 17 after a series of warrants, including four in Oxford.

At a house in Priory Road, police found three firearms and ammunition in a cupboard.

Constituency figures out

JUST take a look at this constituency - it has seen unemployment in total fall to just 302 people (Job Seekers claimants).

The number of young unemployed – between 18 and 24 years old – and claiming Job Seekers Allowance across the whole of the constituency has fallen to 55 people. In August, that figure stood at just 10 young people in Thame.

The number of new apprenticeships created since the general election comes to 2,080. There has been an increase of almost 42 per cent for the number of work places employing apprentices this year.

Those adversely affected by the spare room subsidy in its first year of operation came to about 70 people across the whole of the district.

And finally, the number of children in poverty in this constituency is at a level 45 per cent below the average for the South East at just over five per cent.

I care passionately about the people trapped in these small numbers and I will not rest until the numbers are zero.

However, you simply cannot turn away from this and not recognise that our long term economic plan is delivering, these figures exemplify this.

Has this situation occurred by accident? Of course not.

It has been Conservatives in Parliament who have driven down unemployment as we have driven up growth.

The International Monetary Fund has confirmed that Britain will be the fastest growing economy in the G7. More jobs, more security and more business.

This is the good news a Conservative government and a Conservative MP can bring.

Cowley pool plan revealed

A COMMUNITY group bidding to save Temple Cowley Pools from closure unveiled its plans for the site today.

New architects drawings for the building in Temple Road show a revamped, exercise studio, sauna, steam room, gym, changing rooms and plans to bring the diving pool back into use.

Save Temple Cowley Pools (Save TCP) also want to run a new café and community centre from the same building.

Plans will be on show to the public on Mondays at a meeting from 6pm at the United Reform Church Hall in Temple Road.

It comes ahead of a decision on December 17 on whether the site will be sold to housing developers or given to Save TCP to carry out their plans.

Oxford City Council's Executive Board, chaired by leader Bob Price, is due to decide at an Oxford Town Hall meeting from 5pm.

Nine other commercial bids, will be considered.

The city council announced plans to close Temple Cowley Pools five years ago to replace it with a new pool now built at Blackbird Leys Leisure Centre.

Cllr Price said: "When we get to the board in December, there will be a decision to go for the best value commercial bid or to opt for the other one."

New video aims to win over doubters

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

• An artists impression of what the redeveloped West Way shopping centre could look like from the B4044 (picture courtesy of Doric)

DEVELOPERS have unveiled a new video for a £100million scheme to redevelop West Way in Botley in hope of winning over a group of residents fighting the plans.

Doric Properties and Mace want to knock down West Way shopping centre, Elms Parade shops, Field House sheltered housing and the empty Elms Court office block.

A supermarket, cinema, hotel, gym, shops, 50 flats and 525 student rooms would be built in their place.

Campaign group West Way Community Concern labelled revised plans "cosmetic" in September.

But Doric claim the plans included over 100 changes.

And now a seven-minute video has been produced to try and convince doubters of the scheme's potential.

Huw Griffiths, development director at Mace, said: "We know that there's been a few misconceptions out there about how our plans will look in reality.

"We hope that by having this pedestrian-level view of the whole site, we can put those to bed and allow people to see it for themselves."

Mr Griffiths added: "We very much hope the local community will grasp this opportunity to seize the environmental and community benefits they deserve and which other local communities have enjoyed for many years."

Doric submitted amendments to its original plans to Vale of White Horse District Council on September 8.

Changes include reducing the height of the cinema by one metre and the hotel by one storey.

Other amendments include the supermarket reducing in size from 8,314sqm to 8,181sqm and it moving further north by 2m, as well as adding trees to act as a buffer screen.

Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee will make a decision on the application at a meeting on December 3 at Abingdon's Guildhall in Abbey Close.

However, Chris Church, co-chair of West Way Community Concern, said: "This is still out of scale.

"It's squeezing an out of town shopping centre into a small suburban space and it is likely to cause very serious traffic congestion both on the A34 and Botley Road.

"All the glitzy videos in the world do not make any difference to that."

WIN classic 80s music boxsets!

WHETHER it was politics, pop culture, fashion, film or TV, the eighties was a decade you either loved or loved to hate. But nothing quite defines the 80s as does its music. When it came to music during the decade, nothing was understated, not the sound or fashion.

This autumn, Universal Music Catalogue has announced two new releases focussing on the best of that period. Released 3rd November, '12"/80s New Wave' and 12"/80s Chilled' feature a mix of iconic big hitters and cult club classics of the movement, both across 3 x CDs, all in their original 12" extended glory.

At the beginning of the 80s, out of the explosive sounds of 70s Punk, evolved a phenomenal era of revolutionary bands and artists that came to be known as "New Wave". It encapsulated many different genres and sub-genres of music and youth culture, from New Romantic (Duran Duran, Japan, Human League) to Ska (The Specials, The Beat) to Reggae (UB40) to Alternative (Simple Minds, Echo & The Bunnymen, Altered Images, Aztec Camera) all of which are represented on '12"/80s New Wave'.

Closing date:
Friday, November 28, 2014

'12"/80s Chilled' is the first compilation of its kind to focus on the more laidback, down-tempo tracks of the decade. Featuring 80s Electronic classics (Heaven 17, Japan, OMD, It's Immaterial), cool Dub/Instrumental remixes (Soft Cell, Tears for Fears, Hall & Oates), mellow jazz & sophisti-pop (Bryan Ferry, Swing Out Sister, Matt Bianco), New Romantic anthems (Duran Duran, Simple Minds, Human League) and chilled 80s club beats (Blondie, New Order, Frankie Goes to Hollywood, Chris Rea), '12"/80s Chilled' is the perfect introduction to some of the great artists from the era.

Across two releases, these songs set the gold standard for what pop music should be. Thirty years on, they are still the standard that today's artists get compared to.

Win copies!

We have copies of these great box sets to give away and to be in with a chance of winning one of each all you have to do is answer this simple question.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Advertorial

Thinking about moving in retirement?

WITH an increasing number of people nearing retirement, we have been looking at the idea of moving to a retirement village, the latest of which is now being built at Richmond Witney.

According to Strutt & Parker, with the UK economic confidence returning, those in retirement are sensing that now is a good time to sell after years of hesitating during the recession. Many are 'right-sizers' – those moving house to better suit their evolving needs both in terms of space and finance, or what they call "the 4 'S's - shrinking to share, save and spend."

The firm's recent Housing Futures survey indicates that 52% of homeowners between the age of 70 and 79 consider the need for a smaller home to be a key factor for moving house.

A growing demand for quality, premium retirement living has brought the arrival of the retirement village, somewhere you buy and live in your own property, surround yourself with likeminded people, enjoy excellent facilities with plenty to do, safe in the knowledge that an on-site care-team is available 24 hours a day should the need ever arise.

One of the pioneers in the retirement village concept is Richmond Villages who are part of Bupa, has and have been designing, building and operating their own villages for some 18 years. Having welcomed hundreds of residents who have purchased properties at one of their five villages, they have a real sense for what people moving to a retirement village look for.

Set in 9.5 acres, their new £30million retirement village at Witney, west of Oxford will offer three different levels of accommodation: Village apartments for people aged from 55 with services available as required; one and two bedroom Village suites for those requiring more assistance and care, and a care home providing nursing and dementia care.

Facilities will include a wellness spa with swimming pool and gym, hair and beauty salon, a library, IT room, terrace café, quality restaurant and garden bar, and all set within beautifully landscaped grounds with a bowling green and nature reserve beyond. Construction is now underway, with the first residents due to move into their new homes towards the end of 2015.

"Taking the decision to move from one's family home to something more manageable is a major step for anyone," says Paddy Brice, managing director of Richmond Villages. "It really is one of those key stages in life, and not one to be taken lightly.

"But equally, and because it is a big step, it's best not to leave it too late – the longer you leave it, the harder it is likely to be."

For information about Richmond Witney, call 01993 768692, visit www.richmond-villages.com/witney or visit Richmond Witney marketing & community shop, Waterloo Walk, 58 High Street, Witney OX28 6EU. Opening hours: Monday - Saturday, 10am-4.00pm is an 18th century Coaching Inn with luxury bedrooms recently taken on and owned by Mary and Nick Galer. It is nestled away in the heart of the idyllic village of Goring on Thames and overlooks rolling West Berkshire and South Oxfordshire countryside, a stones throw from the river Thames. The Miller is open 7 days a week for eating, drinking and sleeping.

Nick and Mary have an extensive culinary and hospitality background and bring this knowledge to the Miller to create a very special and cosy atmosphere. The kitchen is at the heart of everything good about the Miller and Nick oversees the delivery of fine British ingredients and produce. The Miller atmosphere created by Mary and her team is always at the forefront of their service ethos. Nick and Mary oversee the team to ensure hospitable service is delivered to every customer.

> The key things that have enabled Nick to succeed at the Crown are his knowledge and passion for the product and the British food scene. I'm interested to see where he might take his creativity as he moves onto the next stage of his career.
> Heston Blumenthal

Mary and Nick have completed their first busy summer and are now looking forward to a winter where log fires, heart-warming food and a cosy ambience are priority. They have just introduced a lunch menu Mon-Fri 2 courses £12.50 & 3 courses £15.00 and are currently changing their ALC menu in line with the seasons. Every Sunday they offer a Sunday Supper Club where a set main course and a drink is available for £12.50 (advertised on the website). They also hold a monthly Locals Night where a 5 course tasting menu is £20.00 and a wine flight is available for just £12.00.

Despite only being open for 5 months, they are delighted that they just won 3rd place in Best Thames Local (Restaurant category)-the only place outside of London to make the top 10.

> Mary sets extremely high standards and with a sharp eye for detail and a natural ability to lead is always able to deliver. It is a rare talent to be able to offer a professional but also genuinely warm welcome to her guests.
> Matthew Tomkinson, Roux Scholar

Christmas is fast approaching and Mary & Nick are looking forward to accommodating family gatherings, friend reunions and corporate get togethers. Menus can be obtained by calling or emailing using the details below.

Mary and Nick are keen to be around for the long term having just moved their young family from Maidenhead and would very much like the opportunity to be introduced and hope to meet you soon.

Made up of guitarist and singer Jason Barwick, drummer Kurtis Smith and bass player Tim Smith, the group were voted 'best band' in 2007 by 'It's Only Rock and Roll' magazine.

They have been performing since 2004, and released their most recent album 'Control' in February this year.

It began when Kurtis and his dad Tim began jamming together and started off doing one gig a month, with Jason joining a year later.

"It's like a family being on the road – well in mine and Kurt's case it is!" said Tim.

"I can honestly say in 10 years we have never fallen out, and the crew also are all good friends and have been with us for years."

And while the band regularly tour in the UK, they are increasingly finding success in mainland Europe.

"I think people in Europe of all age groups are still looking to seek out new music and are prepared to pay to see it, whether it has been hyped in the media or not," Tim added.

"I think they look upon it as a great social event going to a gig and a quality night out, not just throwing money over a bar.

"The UK was like this in the '70s with touring bands, but has been in steady decline since, which is a shame as the whole of Europe still regards the UK as the home of rock 'n' roll.

"Touring bands have such a hard time here getting in front of an audience, it just isn't like that abroad."

Doors open at 7.30pm. For more information, go to artbaroxford.co.uk.

La Roux at the O2

SYNTHOPOP act La Roux, who found fame with the number one single 'Bulletproof' in 2009, comes to Oxford's O2 Academy on Saturday.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Originally made up of singer Elly Jackson and record producer Ben Langmaid, La Roux is now a solo act of Elly who released her second album 'Trouble in Paradise' earlier this year.

'Trouble in Paradise' came out in July to critical acclaim, peaking at number six in the UK album chart.

There had been a five-year hiatus since the eponymous hit debut record, with the new offering featuring a more reggae-disco inspired sound.

Asked about changing La Roux's sound, Elly said: "It's a bit like saying why don't you go out with the same person you did when you were 17 – well, for obvious reasons.

"It's kind of a shock now if I listen to the first record, to be honest. I'm like, 'what did we do – where's the bottom end, the bass?'

"But at the time that was exactly what I wanted it to sound like."

Elly had numerous musical influences growing up, particularly with folk, disco and artists including David Bowie, Madonna and Gerry Rafferty.

And she has been working with sound engineer Ian Sherwin, who encouraged her to not stick with the same sound.

"At the end of one record, you think you've learnt everything," said Elly.

"This is what everybody says: 'Oh, now I know what I'm going to do when I make the next album, I'm not going to make any of these mistakes again'.

"Then you get to the next album and you realise the same rules never apply.

"I think the fundamental thing is that Ian and I want the same thing artistically, he wants me to be the artist that I am."

Doors open at 6pm.

Comedian adventurer

CANADIAN comedian and part-time adventurer Craig Campbell comes to Didcot's Cornerstone theatre tomorrow night as he continues his UK tour.

The show features Craig's stories about his life and experiences as a stand-up comic working in the UK, as well as searching for fun as a middle-aged man.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

And while Craig has made appearances on BBC shows 'Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow' and 'Russell Howard's Good News', he's still waiting to make it big.

"The tour's into its second year, so there's some bringing up to date of the travels of being a comedian at my level of status and what that entails," said Craig.

"For example, last week I was in London, and we woke up in Devon before driving up to Stockton-on-Tees en route to Scotland.

"I'm not at a point where I'm playing at every theatre that's 30 miles up the road!"

As well as the tour, Craig is also preparing for a unique gig that sees him and a group of other comedians perform at base camp on Mount Everest in aid of charity Save the Children.

'Stand Up on Everest' will see him joined by Stewart Francis, Terry Alderton and Ardal O'Hanlon among others on a nine-day trek to more than 5,000m above sea level to the camp.

Fifty fans will accompany the group on the journey, scheduled to take place next October.

But the journey has been made harder for Craig, after he was recently diagnosed with osteoarthritis.

"My involvement is going to be extremely painful," said Craig.

"But I'm honoured to be asked to do it and flattered to be a part of it, and it's great for people to show interest in me because there's not many other ways I'm on the radar in this part of the world.

"It's a really nice thing for people to talk to me about, and I'm proud of that."

Tomorrow's show starts at 8pm. For more information, go to cornerstone-arts.org or phone 01235 515144.

Annual lecture

OXFORD Playhouse hosts the annual Charles Simonyi Lecture tomorrow night, this year featuring Cambridge University professor David MacKay.

David will be discussing how the laws of physics constrain energy options, and how his reflections on energy arithmetic propelled him into a senior civil service role.

Susan Calman

AWARD-WINNING comedian Susan Calman is bringing her first ever UK tour to Henley's Kenton Theatre this evening.

Susan has made appearances on 'The News Quiz', 'QI' and 'Have I Got News For You' in the past, with this show covering topics about being older, wiser and liking yourself.

Tonight's show starts at 7.30pm.

Dylan's sound

AN EVENING of Bob Dylan music is being performed at Banbury's Mill Arts Centre this Sunday.

Veteran rocker Steve Gibbons is accompanied by Fairport Convention's rhythm section, guitarist PJ Wright and keyboard wizard Phil Bond for the show.

The gig starts at 8pm.

Friendships borne from war

THE lasting effects of shellshock will be explored in a production based on a critically acclaimed novel at the Oxford Playhouse next week.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

In 1991, a then 48-year old Pat Barker published 'Regeneration'.

The book explores the experience of British army officers being treated for shellshock during the First World War at Craiglockhart Hospital in Edinburgh.

Since its release, the novel has been turned into a film, and this year, 'Regeneration' made its theatrical debut in Northampton as part of its UK tour.

The stage version of the book comes to Oxford's Beaumont Street theatre on Tuesday, November 18, to Saturday, November 22.

The production touches on friendships borne from the most brutal of conflicts.

"I always heard the voices inside my head", Barker told the Guardian, now aged 71.

"Much of the psychological action takes place within the conversations in Craiglockhart, the Scottish infirmary where men suffering the psychological harms of the war were sent for treatment, often before being sent back to the same trenches to fight again."

Barker added, "That closeted world, distant from the daily lives of Britons on the home front, becomes a reflection of the trenches and their trauma."

Two of the 10 main characters are based on soldiers and now-famous wartime poets who fought in the First World War, while another is based on a psychiatrist from the hospital.

The production focuses on poets Siegfried Sassoon and Wilfred Owen, as well as W.H.R. Rivers, the psychiatrist who treated traumatised fighters at Craiglockhart from 1916 to 1917.

Owen was killed in action aged 25 on November 4, 1918, exactly one week (almost to the hour) before the Armistice was signed, and is regarded as one of the leading poets of The Great War.

Rivers treated Sassoon where the two became very close friends until Rivers' sudden death aged just 58.

"Nobody planned that young men would sit in holes and be pounded by shells, nobody wanted what happened", Barker said. "It's the gap between the intention and what happened that absorbed me."

The production is 150 minutes and it is suitable for over 14s.

Tickets cost from £11 to £26.50.

First elf sighting of the year at Millets Farm

MILLETS Farm near Abingdon are well known for starting elf recruitment as early as July to get the best elves in time for the festive season, and it seems they're already hard at work.

Events Manager Daren Fisher commented "we're expecting a bigger than ever demand for Christmas produce and gifts this year. Last year we made over 30,000 mince pies and we're expecting record sales on sprout sticks, turkeys and clementines - people are getting organised early this year".

Kirsty the Elf

Aaliya (4) and Callum (7)Aizaz from Wantage.

Millets Farm also boasts the most popular grotto in the county with a full on Santa experience - children and their grown ups meet the elves in the workshop to make gifts and sing songs before going into the grotto for stories with Santa. And of course every child gets to meet Santa and receive a present. Parents get a chance to sit back and relax with a mince pie before joining their children for a family photo with the man in red.

The family run farm park is expecting such a busy season that they've asked Mrs Claus to return for a second year to help make sure that Santa can meet all of the children.

Also on site is the beautiful outdoor ice rink with daily skating sessions include toddler skates, character sessions with Frosty the Snowman and an incredibly atmospheric and sentimental New Year's Day skate.

Tickets must be pre-booked online or via the Millets Farm Facebook page.

Korean car maker offers up extra options in the booming compact crossover market

Kia's new models in the mix

KIA'S all-new Soul range has been expanded with the arrival of two high specification models – named the Soul Mixx and Maxx.

REVIEW: Kia Soul

By James Richings

The two models, which have hit car showrooms, aim to create an impressive presence on the road.

Their 18-inch alloy wheels, urban styling pack and LED daytime running lights set them apart from the very first Kia Souls that hit the road in 2008.

The range set out to prove Kia could design and build excellent cars, while keeping the focus on practicality and value for money.

It became a market leader in the United States and China, before hitting the dizzy heights of a top-five car in its class.

The 2014 second-generation version of the Kia Soul takes advantage of the boom in the compact crossover market, with global annual sales forecast to rise to more than 600,000 by next year.

Kia's all-new Soul is designed to be stylish while taking on a SUV-like appearance.

All versions of the models are front-wheel-drive and five-door crossovers.

However, researchers at the South Korean manufacturer aimed to make the most out of the fact that while customers want the looks, they do not want the taxation and higher fuel consumption that four-wheel drives entail.

Standard equipment on both models includes a premium Infinity sound system, eight-inch touchscreen satellite navigation, leather upholstery, heated front seats and automatic air-conditioning.

The Mixx comes with contrasting body and roof colours, coloured door mirrors and a reversing camera.

In addition the Soul Maxx includes a smart key entry system with engine stop/start button, auto-dimming rear-view mirror, front and rear parking sensors and panoramic sunroof.

The Soul Mixx is available in 1.6 CRDi six-speed manual and automatic versions as well as a 1.6 GDi manual with prices starting from £18,150.

Pricing on the Soul Maxx starts from £19,950 and is available in six-speed manual 1.6 GDi and 1.6 CRDi options.

For more information about both models, visit kia.co.uk.

The 30-point Ford Winter Check is a visual only vehicle inspection. *Fluid levels will be topped up to the vehicle manufacturer recommended levels and are limited to ½ a litre per item. Additional quantities of fluids will be charged accordingly with customer's consent. Should a fault be identified as the reason for a fluid top-up being required then further investigation would be necessary and therefore fluid top-up will not be included. Your participating Ford Dealer may recommend that certain essential work be carried out on the grounds of safety before you drive your vehicle. Decision of the participating Dealer is binding and final in all matters. This offer is available from participating Ford Dealers only and is valid from 01.11.2014 until 28.02.2015. Julians of Didcot reserves the right to change, amend or withdraw the whole or part of this offer at any time.

Advertorial

Local used car dealership shows it's mark of respect..

IN 2011, owner of Lodge Hill Garage, Peter Jewson launched a campaign to raise money for a national monument to recognise the bravery of the Air Transport Auxiliary (ATA) Girls during World War 2 and honour them, some of whom lost their lives delivering the aircraft to the battle stations. The fundraising campaign was launched at a special event where Lodge Hill unveiled the life size spitfire replica, which they have placed on the garage roof adjacent to the showroom in tribute to these brave women as a permanent memorial.

This year the staff at Lodge Hill Garage have really done themselves proud with their array of poppies to commemorate the fallen from the last two world wars a feature that has been noticed by many passers by.

Lodge Hill Garage have also been instrumental in raising funds towards the Royal British Legion Poppy day appeal and have donated £50 from the sale of each car during Monday the third of November and the following Sunday, well from the Oxfordshire Guardian and all of our readers; we salute you.

Michelle Elford.

Ferguson - We need to harness our frustration

ASSISTANT coach Matt Ferguson says London Welsh must use the frustration of losing to Gloucester last weekend as an incentive to getting off the mark in the Aviva Premiership on Sunday.

The Exiles have had a four week break from the league with European Rugby Challenge Cup and LV= Cup pool games dominating the fixtures.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Justin Burnell's side are still winless this season after 10 games but there was an overwhelming sense of frustration at the Kassam Stadium four days ago as Welsh went down 18-9 to Gloucester in the LV= Cup.

Welsh were camped on the Gloucester tryline with four minutes to go and needed a converted try to claim the win.

However, they could not muscle their way over the whitewash and the boot of Aled Thomas put the game beyond the Exiles.

Ferguson is now hoping the Dragons can use all the frustration from last Sunday in a positive manner as they prepare for the short trip to London Wasps in three days time.

He said: "I think now we need to harness that frustration and use it for this weekend's game.

"There has definitely been a bit of bite about training.

"We made it quite clear that we have to take these chances.

"It tells you a lot about who we are as a club that we came into work on Tuesday thinking it was an opportunity missed."

After six rounds of the Aviva Premiership, the Exiles find themselves bottom of the table with just one bonus point defeat to their name.

Welsh's campaign began with a thumping 52-0 defeat at home to Exeter Chiefs but Ferguson believes the club are now in better shape ahead of the next period of league rugby.

He said: "The Premiership is what we are all about.

"Do we enter the second block in a better shape than we entered the first block; yes, I certainly believe we do.

"We have had a pretty good taste of what it takes and we have been able to go away for the last four weeks and get some real quality coaching time."

Reynolds urges for resolve

CENTRE Nic Reynolds says London Welsh have to earn a losing bonus point at the least when they take on London Wasps in the Aviva Premiership on Sunday.

The Exiles return to league action this weekend but are still without a win this season and are on a 10-match losing run in all competitions.

Reynolds has made eight appearances for the Exiles since signing in the summer and the 25-year-old says Welsh must come away from Adams Park with something.

He continued: "Anything, a losing bonus point, a four-try bonus point, would be good.

"We would take anything at the moment but we are going there to win."

The Welshman says he and his teammates are desperate to record a victory and despite the defeats the effort levels can never be questioned.

Reynolds added: "It is definitely not a lack of effort, you can see that in the games.

"Each week and contact training session there is definitely enthusiasm and desire."

City end poor run but are held to a draw by Celtic

OXFORD City's four-match winless run in the Vanarama Conference North came to an end last Saturday but they were forced to settle for a 1-1 draw at home to Stalybridge Celtic.

Javi Rodriguez gave City an early lead but Liam Dickinson's equaliser saw Justin Merritt's side held to a draw at Marsh Lane for the fourth time this season.

City have slipped to ninth in the table as a result and are eight points behind league leaders Barrow who replaced AFC Fylde at the top.

However, a win for Merritt's side over local rivals Brackley Town on Saturday could see them return to the top four but it would require results going their way.

Elsewhere, Oxford City Ladies were dumped out of the Women's FA Cup last Sunday with a 10-1 loss at Forest Green Rovers.

City made the third qualifying round after wins over Poole Town and Banbury United.

PREMIERSHIP RUGBY IN OXFORD - BE PART OF IT

Roberts fires U's into next round

TEENAGER James Roberts said it was a dream come true to score twice on his first start for Oxford United and fire the club into the second round of the FA Cup.

Roberts netted on 35 and 42 minutes as United beat Vanarama Conference club Grimsby Town 3-1 in the first round last Saturday.

United will now face fellow Sky Bet League Two side Tranmere Rovers in the second round on December 6.

The 18-year-old's two goals marked the end of a week where he also penned a new deal at the club, keeping him at the Kassam Stadium until 2018.

Roberts told the club: "I will be recording the highlights because it's a dream come true.

"To be part of the FA Cup is great and to score two goals is unbelievable.

"Hopefully that's enough to keep me in the squad and maybe in the starting eleven for the York game.

"If it's not then I just keep working and wait for another opportunity."

Before Saturday, Roberts had made five appearances from the bench but he took little time to make the most of his first start.

On 35 minutes, he cut in from the left to curl a shot from 20 yards past James McKeown and into the bottom corner, before tapping home a second before the break.

Midfielder Danny Rose fired home a third to send United through and despite Shaun Pearson's 80th minute goal, head coach Michael Appleton was delighted.

He told the club: "The three points (in the league) are 10 times more important but this will be good for us.

"After a couple of narrow defeats it was nice to get the result.

"It would have been nice to keep the clean sheet but we're delighted and we go into next week with a bit of confidence."

United return to Sky Bet League Two action this Saturday with a trip to 20th placed York City.

Top scorer Danny Hylton returns to the squad from suspension while Will Hoskins (groin) remains United's only long-term absentee.

Convey fires Ardley to victory

CALLUM Convey's late penalty saw Ardley United earn a hard fought 2-1 win over Wootton Bassett Town in the Hellenic Premier Division on Tuesday night.

The win keeps Kevin Brock's side sixth in the table and are eight points behind league leaders Highmoor Ibis.

On Tuesday, Ardley went behind to an early goal from Dan Bailey but Chris Jackson headed an equaliser just after the break.

Ardley created the better chances in the latter stages and when Diego Petriaggi was tripped in the area, Convey converted from the spot.

Last Saturday, Milton United's poor form continued with a 6-1 hammering at the hands of Highmoor Ibis, while Kidlington were beaten 3-1 by Reading Town.

However, Thame United remained fifth in the table after a 2-0 win over Shrivenham.

On Saturday, Milton host Thatcham Town in the Hellenic Premier Division.

And as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, Kidlington were in action against Lydney Town in the third round of the Flying Press Floodlit Cup.

Hawks hit for six by Old Georgians

OXFORD Hawks Hockey never recovered from a rocky first half to go down 6-2 to Old Georgians at Banbury Road North in the Premier Division 1 last Saturday.

James Tindall and Ryan Van Der Reit both scored twice while Dave Bartram and Liam Doidge also netted for the visitors.

The defeat leaves Hawks fourth in the table but they are now six points behind league leaders Havant.

Hawks went behind early on as Tindall converted a short corner, and three goals coming in quick succession all but ended the match before the break.

Dan Rhodes pulled one back before half-time but the visitors added a further two goals for 6-1 after the break, while Chris Lim converted a short corner for a consolation towards the end.

Hawks will look to get back to winning ways when they make the trip to Lewes on Saturday.

Duo join new look Wantage Town

ADAM Doyle and Nick Thorne have signed for Wantage Town ahead of this weekend's visit to Larkhall Athletic.

Doyle and Thorne, both former Abingdon United players, put pen to paper on Tuesday and add much needed experience to Daniel Barry's side.

The duo join fellow new signings Joe Parish, Mark Janes and Daniel Warne at the Alfredians.

Wantage are currently 20th in Division One South & West and on a three match winless run in all competitions.

Larkhall, this weekend's opponents, will be another tough test for Barry's new look Wantage side, who were beaten 3-0 by Merthyr Town last Saturday.

The Bath-based side are currently fifth in the table but, like the Freds, are also on a three-match winless run.

Meanwhile, Duncan Colwell and James Kyberd have been appointed the join managers of Wantage's reserves team.

The position was vacant after Barry became first team manager on October 21, while Andy Barton will be player coach.

Smith upbeat despite falling in last race of the season

MOTOGP rider Bradley Smith says he is still happy with eighth in the rider standings despite a disappointing end to the season at Valencia last Sunday.

The 23-year finished 14th in the final round of the year and missed out on beating teammate Pol Espargaro to sixth in the championship.

On Sunday, rain began to fall on lap 17 and Smith fell from eighth place and re-joined at the back in 20th place.

However, the Monster Yamaha Tech3 rider got his head down and made up six places in the last few laps to cross the line in 14th.

Smith said: "I will learn from this mistake and I am sorry to the team, but I am still satisfied with the final placement in the standings.

"I hope to begin 2015 with a similar high to how we have performed in the second half of this season."

A three-day test at Valencia began on Monday and Smith was third fastest on the first day behind Jorge Lorenzo and Espargaro.

He decided not to test in wet conditions on Tuesday and was sixth quickest yesterday.

KICKBOXING: Witney schoolgirl India Mae Thompson has become a world champion at just 12-years-old.

She won gold in the 42kg category of the Unified World Kickboxing Championships in Carrara, Italy, on November 2.

Thompson was also close to medalling in the 47kg category but missed out on a bronze by just two points.

The championships took place between October 28 and November 2.

GOLF: Abingdon's Eddie Pepperell is bidding to qualify for the season-ending DP World Tour Championship in Dubai when he tees off in Turkey today.

The 23-year-old is currently in the last qualifying place in the Race to Dubai rankings.

Concannon and Heapy will not look beyond FA Trophy tie

WE'LL TAKE IT A GAME AT A TIME

IAN Concannon says Didcot Town are taking it one game at a time as they approach a busy week of cup and league fixtures.

The Railwaymen take on Division One Central side Uxbridge in the second qualifying round of the FA Trophy on Saturday.

And three days later they return to Division One South & West action, welcoming Shortwood United to Loop Meadow, before hosting Wimborne Town next Saturday.

Didcot are third in the league table but joint boss Concannon does not want any attention diverted away from what could be a £3,250 payday for the club on Saturday.

He said: "All we're doing is purely looking at Saturday.

"We have three big games ahead of us – Uxbridge, Shortwood on Tuesday and Wimborne next Saturday.

"We know what is ahead of us and if we are to be up there come the end of the season we will be looking to beat teams like Shortwood and Wimborne.

"But our main focus is Saturday against Uxbridge.

"We don't want to get derailed by looking too far ahead and once Uxbridge is out the way we will look to the next game."

Winger Josh Dutton-Black (toe) is Didcot's only injury worry ahead of Saturday's tie.

Meanwhile, striker Ryan Brooks and midfielder Lance Williams, who have both struggled with hamstring injuries, are now off the treatment table and have featured in the last couple of squads.

Coach Andy Sinnott watched Uxbridge during their 4-3 defeat to Chalfont St Peter last Saturday but Concannon says he wants the focus to be on his side.

He added: "We are aware of what formation they play and what their strengths and weaknesses are.

"We will work on their weaknesses in training but concentrate on what our strengths are as well, otherwise it takes the attention away from us."

The Railwaymen have not lost an away match since the 5-1 defeat to Beaconsfield SYCOB in the preliminary round of the FA Cup on August 29.

And they have only lost twice on their travels in the league so far this season.

Concannon said: "We have played well on our travels; maybe the players relax a bit more and express themselves.

"But we're playing well at the minute.

"The players are full of confidence.

"We have had a break and will be nice and refreshed and ready to go."
